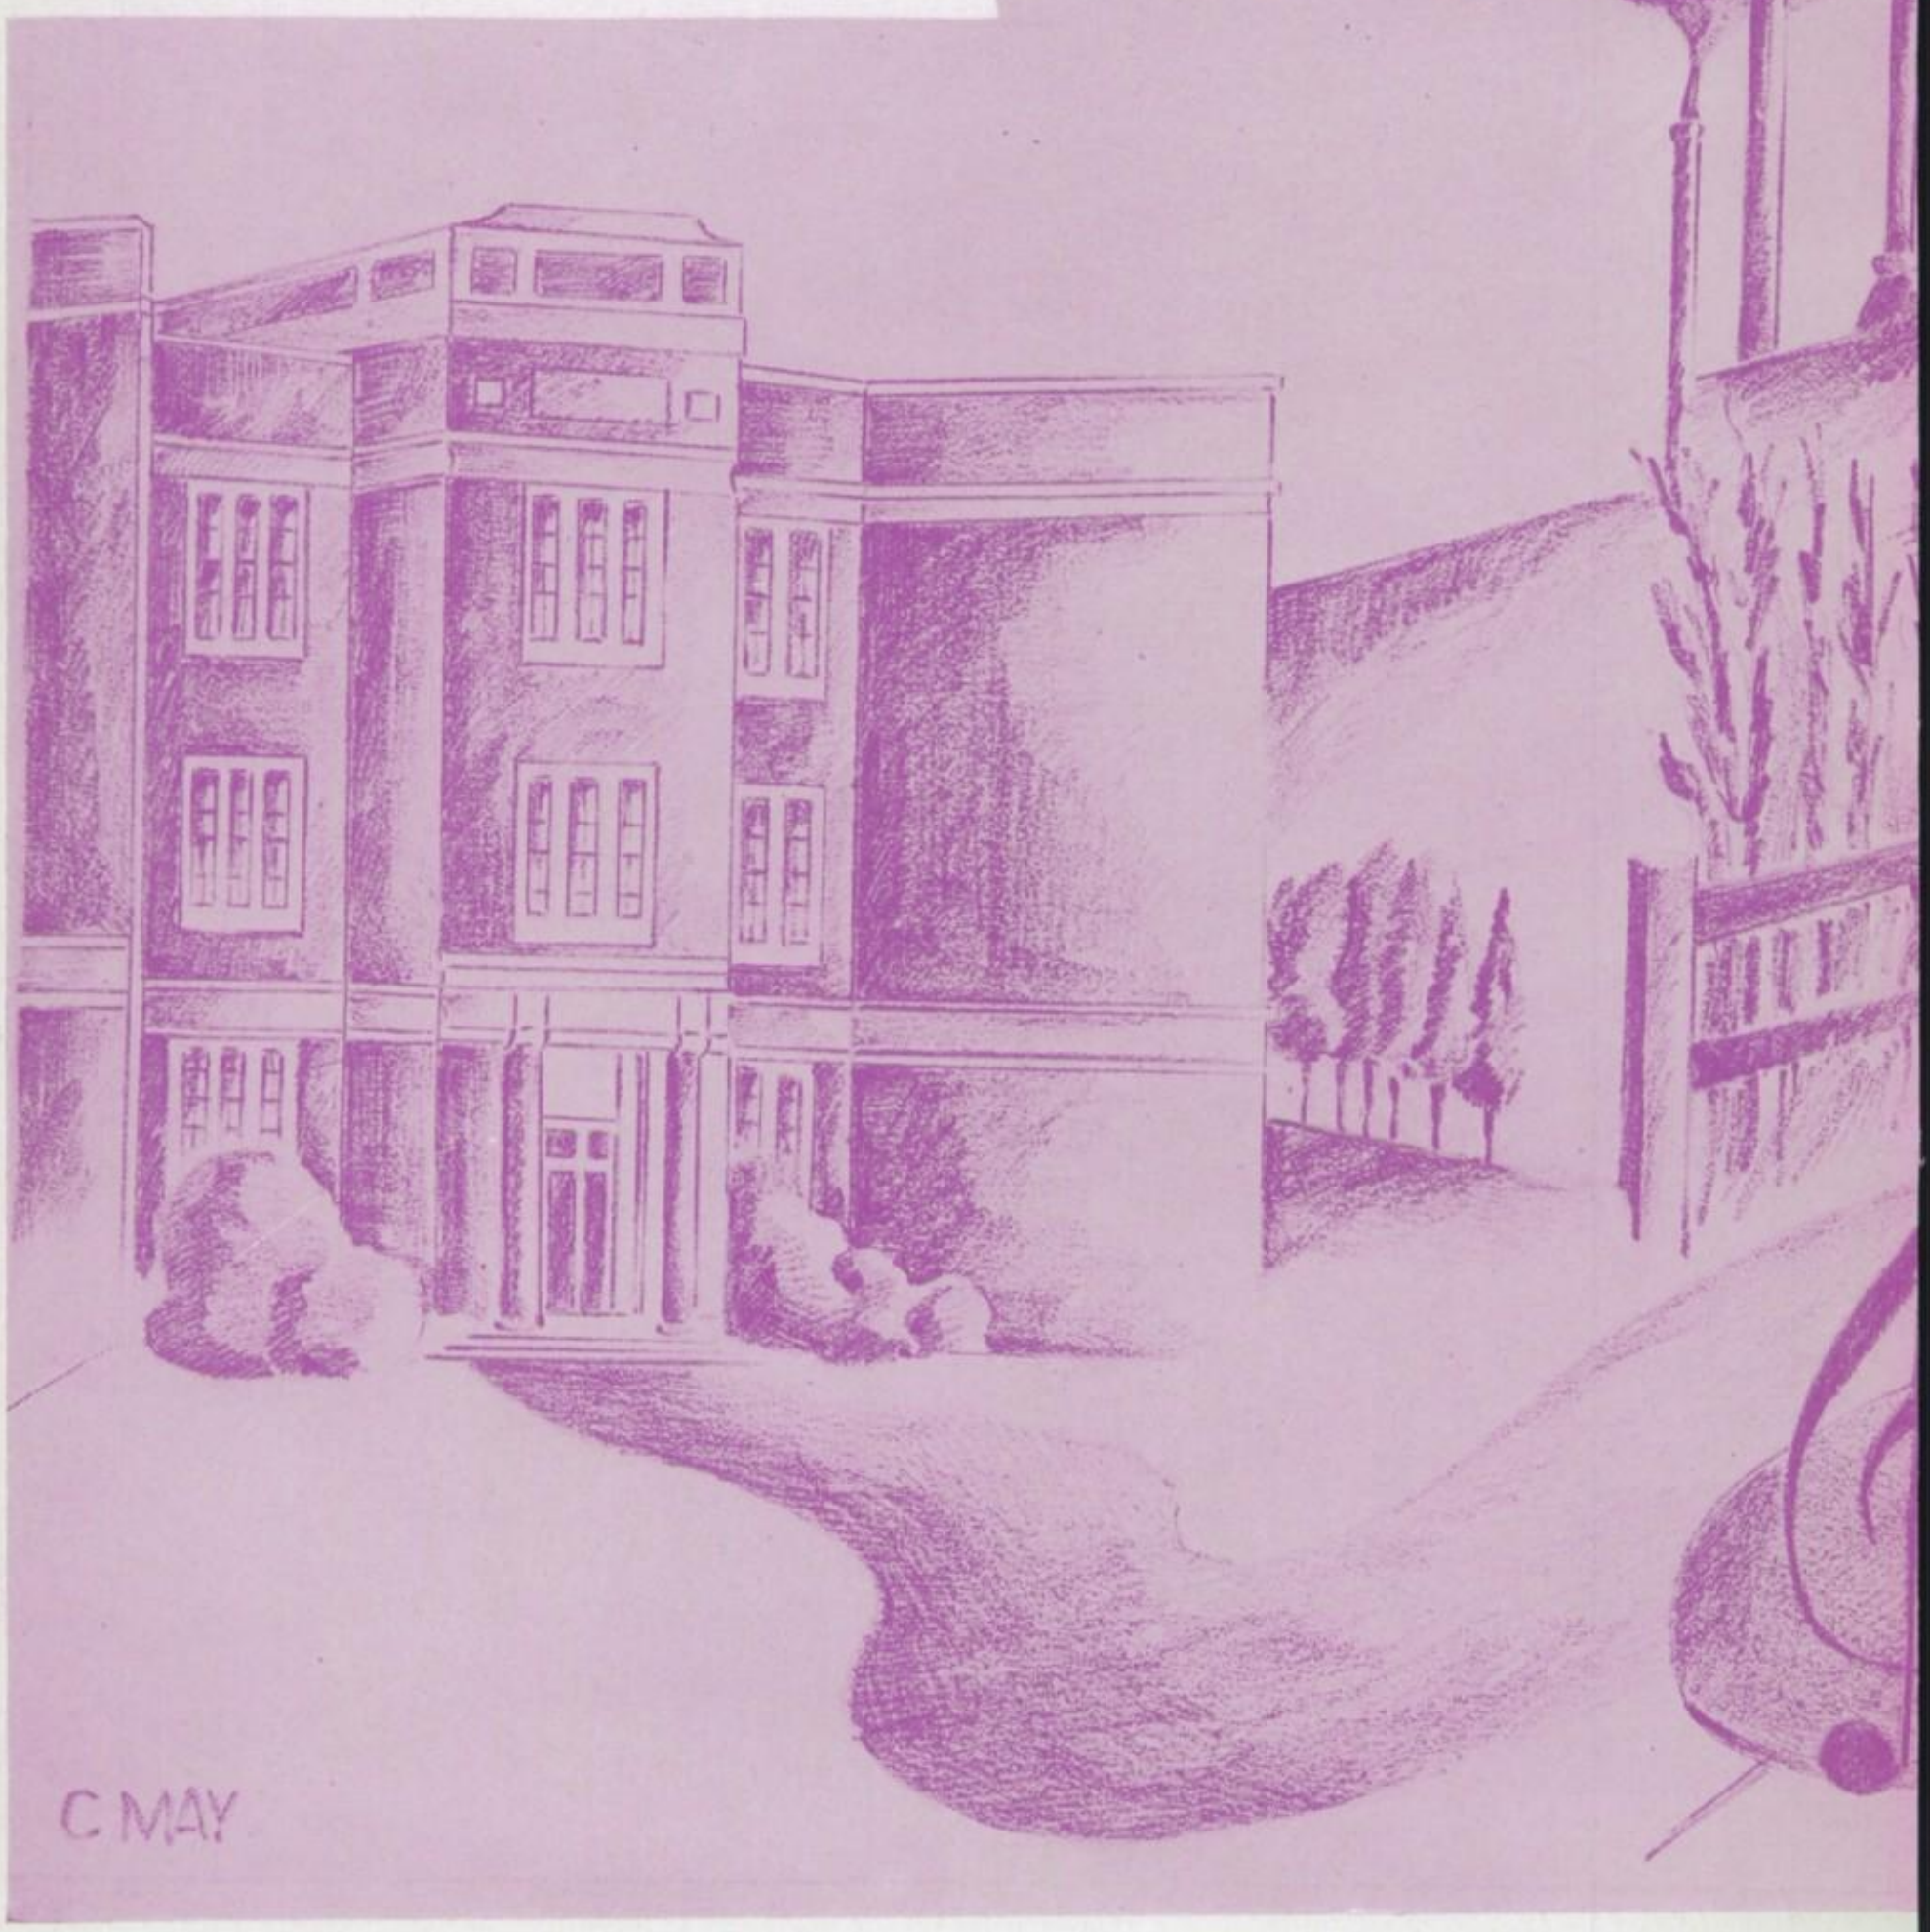
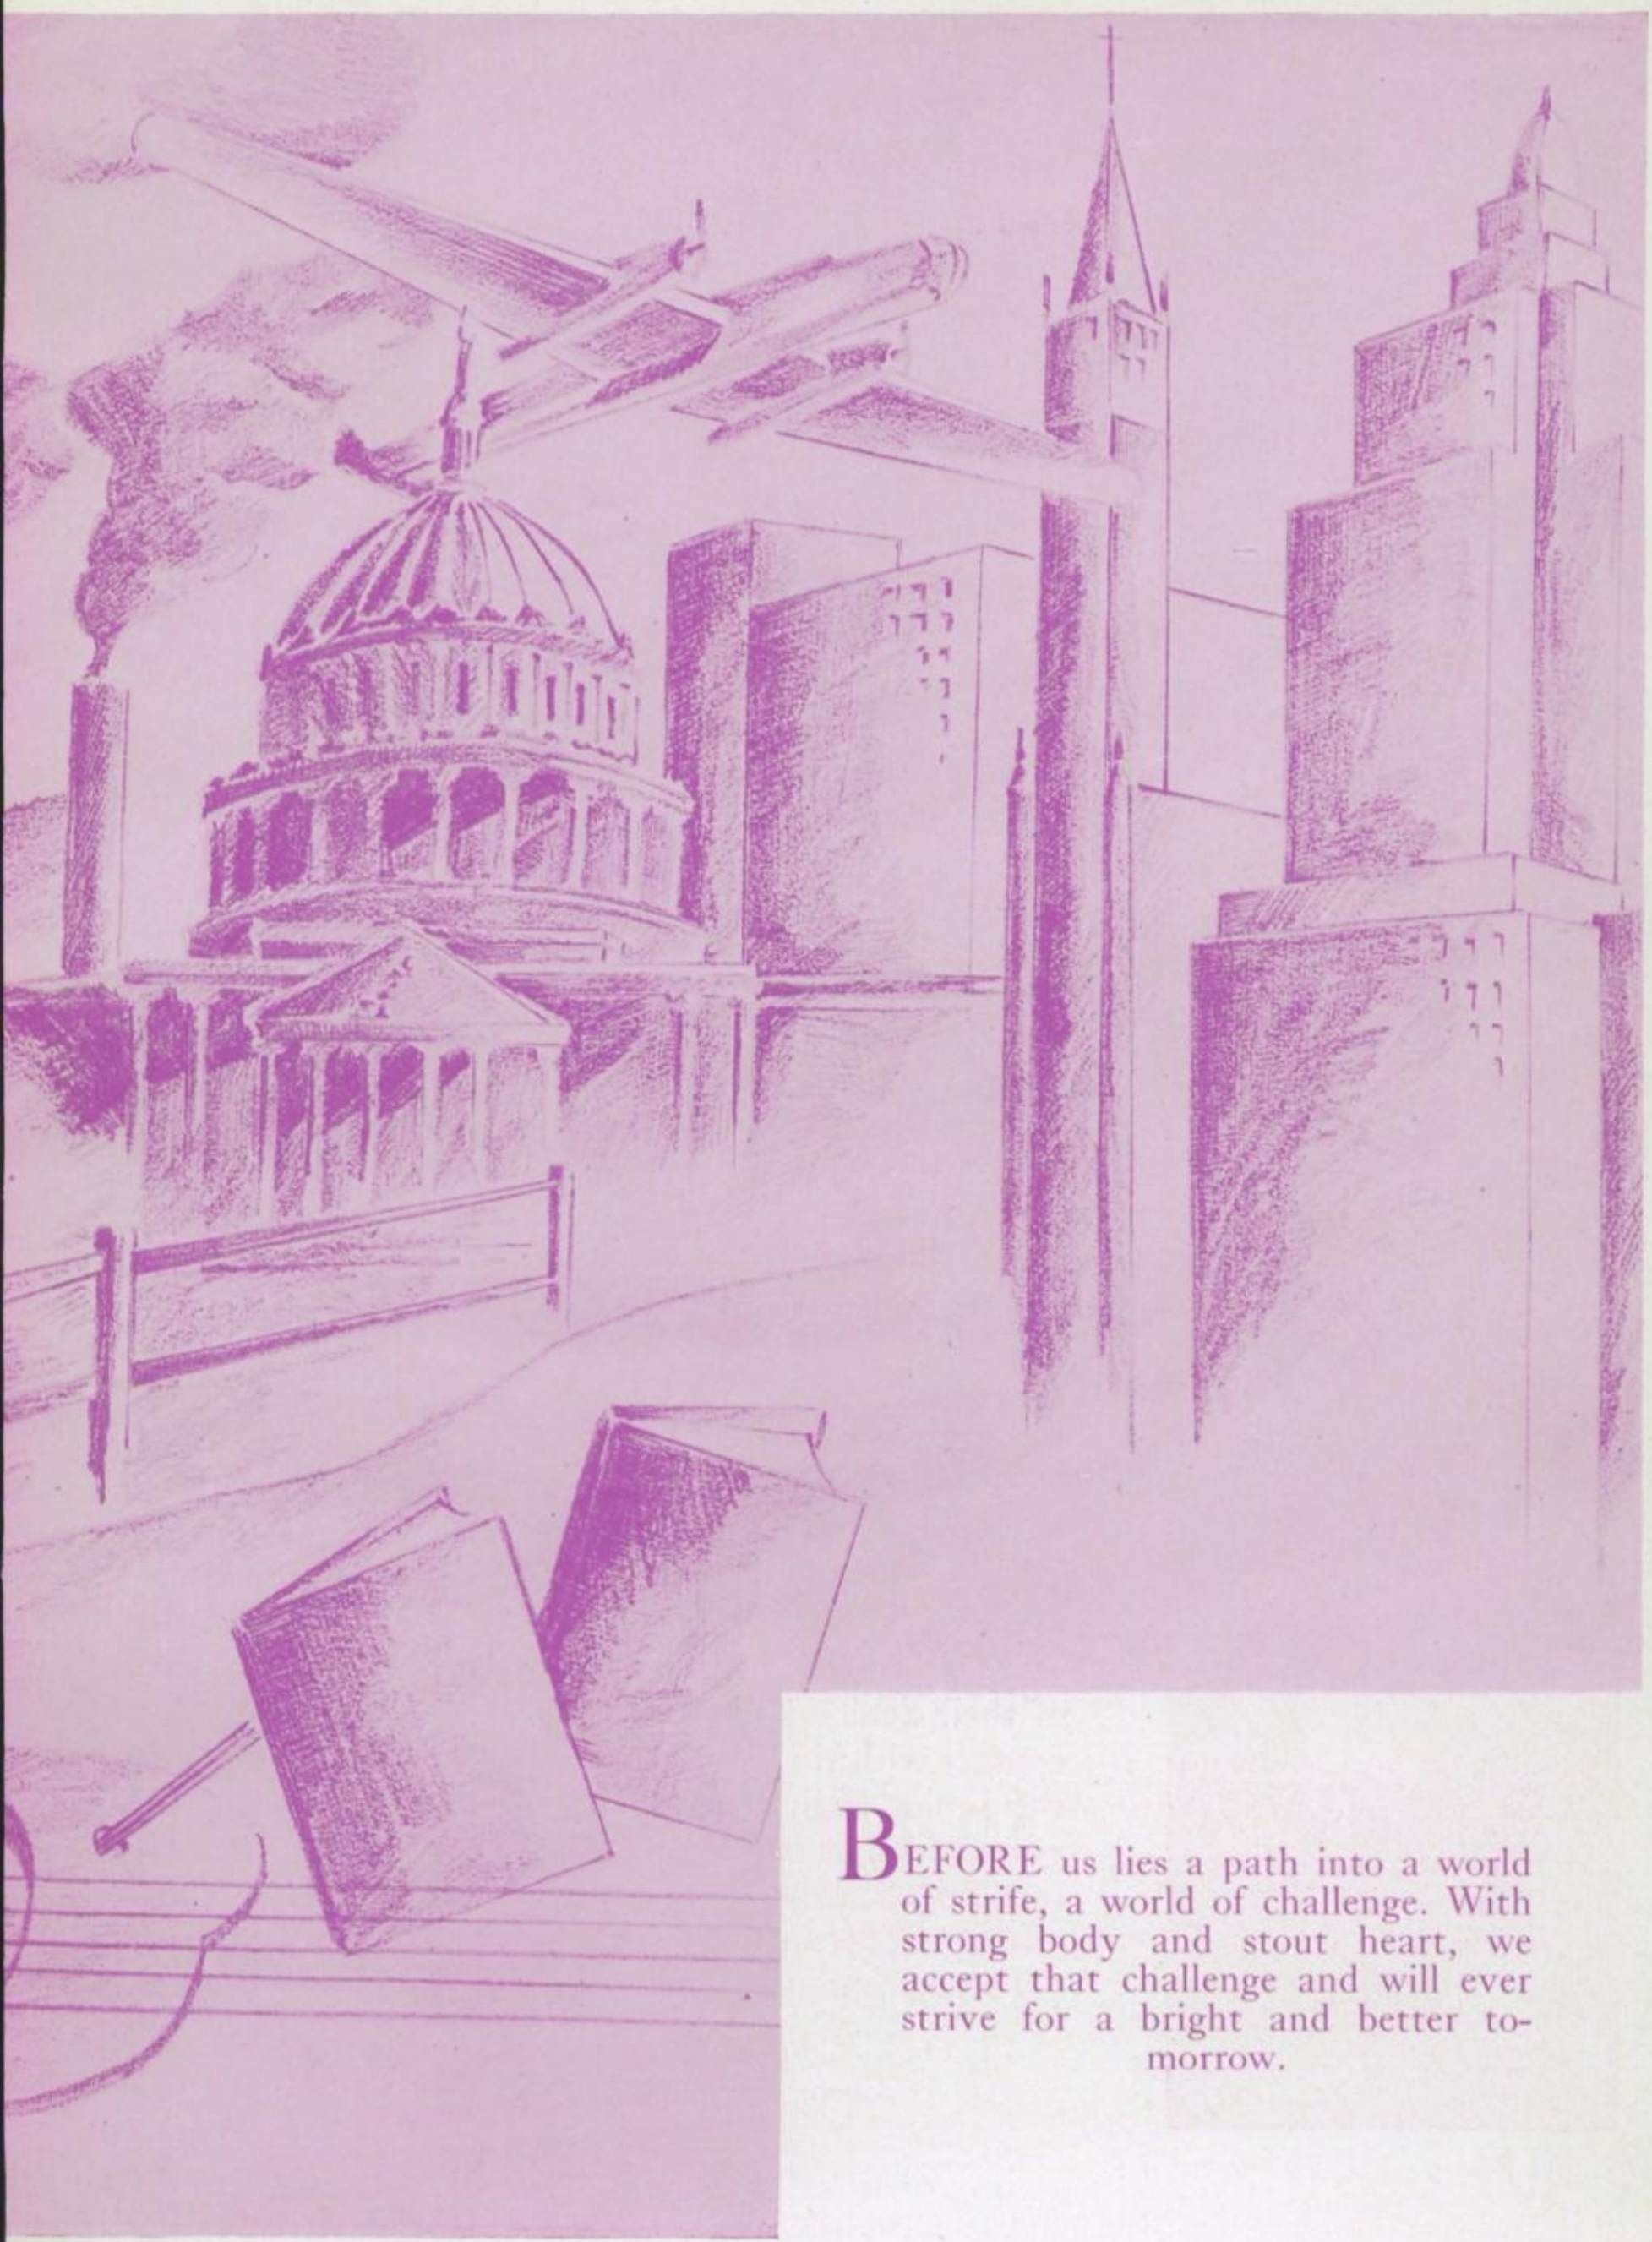
REVEILLE ★

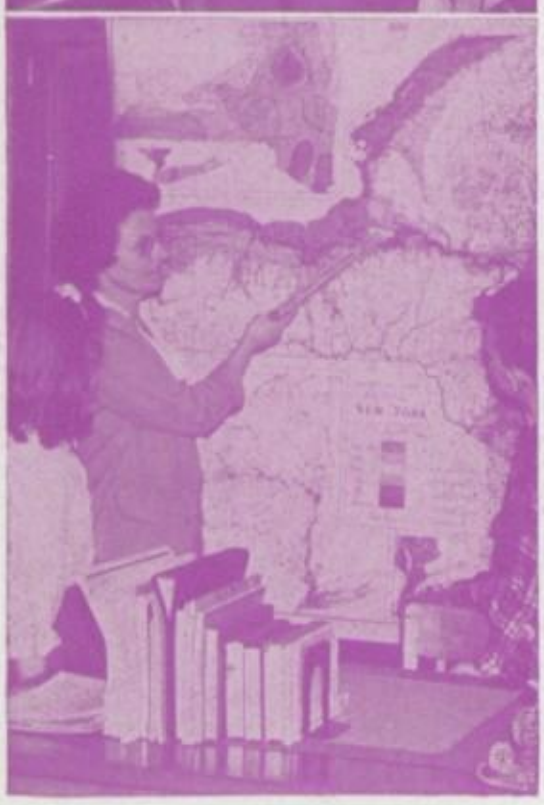
Senior Class of Webster High School
Webster, New York

BEHIND us lies our school—the institution which forged our minds, tempered our beliefs, and molded our character to meet and conquer the obstacles in life's path. For this we forever honor our alma mater. . . .





BEFORE us lies a path into a world of strife, a world of challenge. With strong body and stout heart, we accept that challenge and will ever strive for a bright and better tomorrow.



We Honor

To Esther Dunn we, the Class of '45, dedicate our yearbook. We are forever indebted to her kind, thoughtful work as the guidance director for girls and during the period of Mr. Young's naval service, for the boys too. Where she is concerned, the word guidance holds a true meaning—for she is a sympathetic and understanding counsel. There are few people who can approach her endless faith, tact, and cheer—her thorough knowledge of youth and its problems. For this we appreciate her. . . .

We are forever indebted to her efficient and capable supervision of Student Association funds, as well as class and club finances. In her capacity of universal treasurer she showed boundless patience and willingness to aid the students of Webster High. Her readiness to co-operate with and help those who are connected with class or club treasuries, her energy in undertaking the responsibility of accounting the numerous records, her cheerful acceptance of financial work on our behalf—all these total a vast reservoir of indispensable assistance to us. For this we thank her. . . .

We are forever indebted to her for her educational work in giving knowledge to the seventh graders of this school and preparing them for the requirements and demands of their Senior High years. Because of her widespread contact with the upper grade students, she knows what the Junior High youths can expect to encounter in the years which lie before them. With this future constantly in mind, she expertly molds their habits, their thoughts, and their personalities to meet the tests of living in their coming years. For this we honor her. . . .

MISS ESTHER A. DUNN

In Appreciation . . .

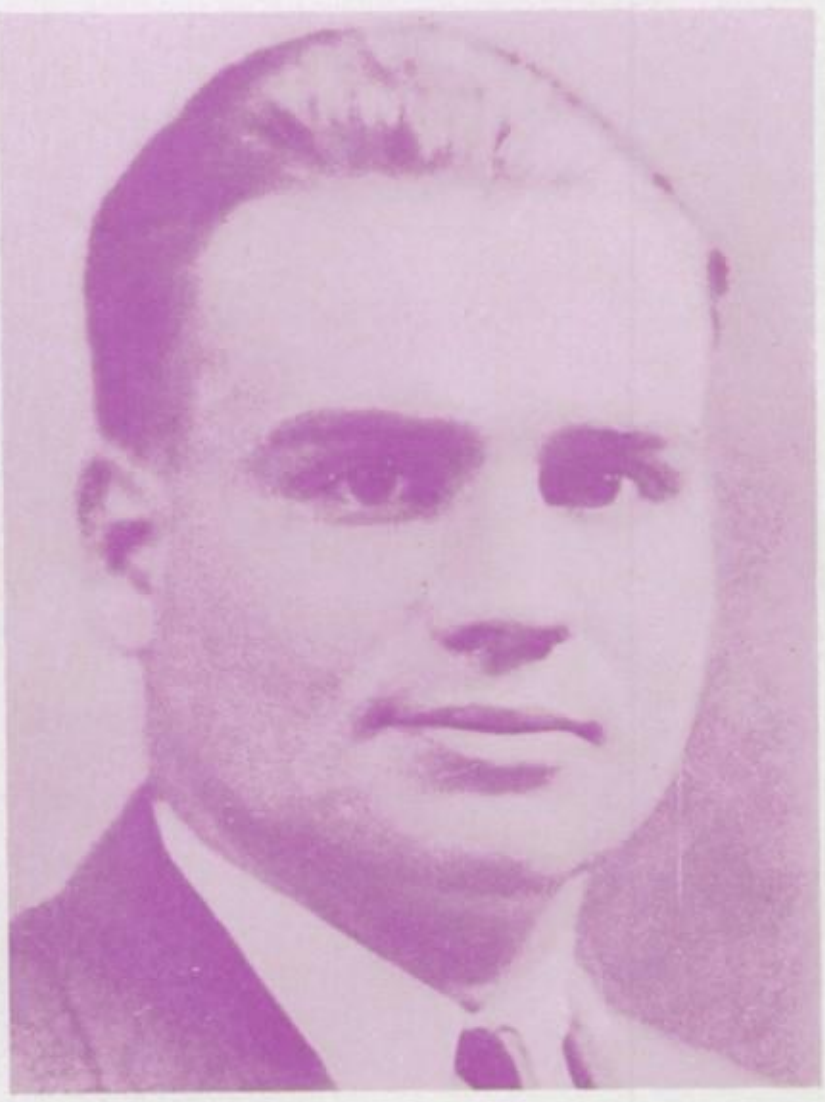
Miss Blanche M. Parshall

This year the name Miss Blanche M. Parshall has appeared for the last time on the list of WHS Faculty members; this year she is leaving the school which she has served so well since 1921.

It was Miss Parshall who received us in 1941 as our Freshmen homeroom teacher; it was she who was an able guide in that first year of our work in a new environment amid new study habits. Among her other duties was the instruction of seventh and eighth grade mathematics and eighth grade spelling.

With her departure the school will feel the loss of a capable teacher and a fine person.

The Class of '45 says, "Thank you and Good Luck, Miss Parshall."

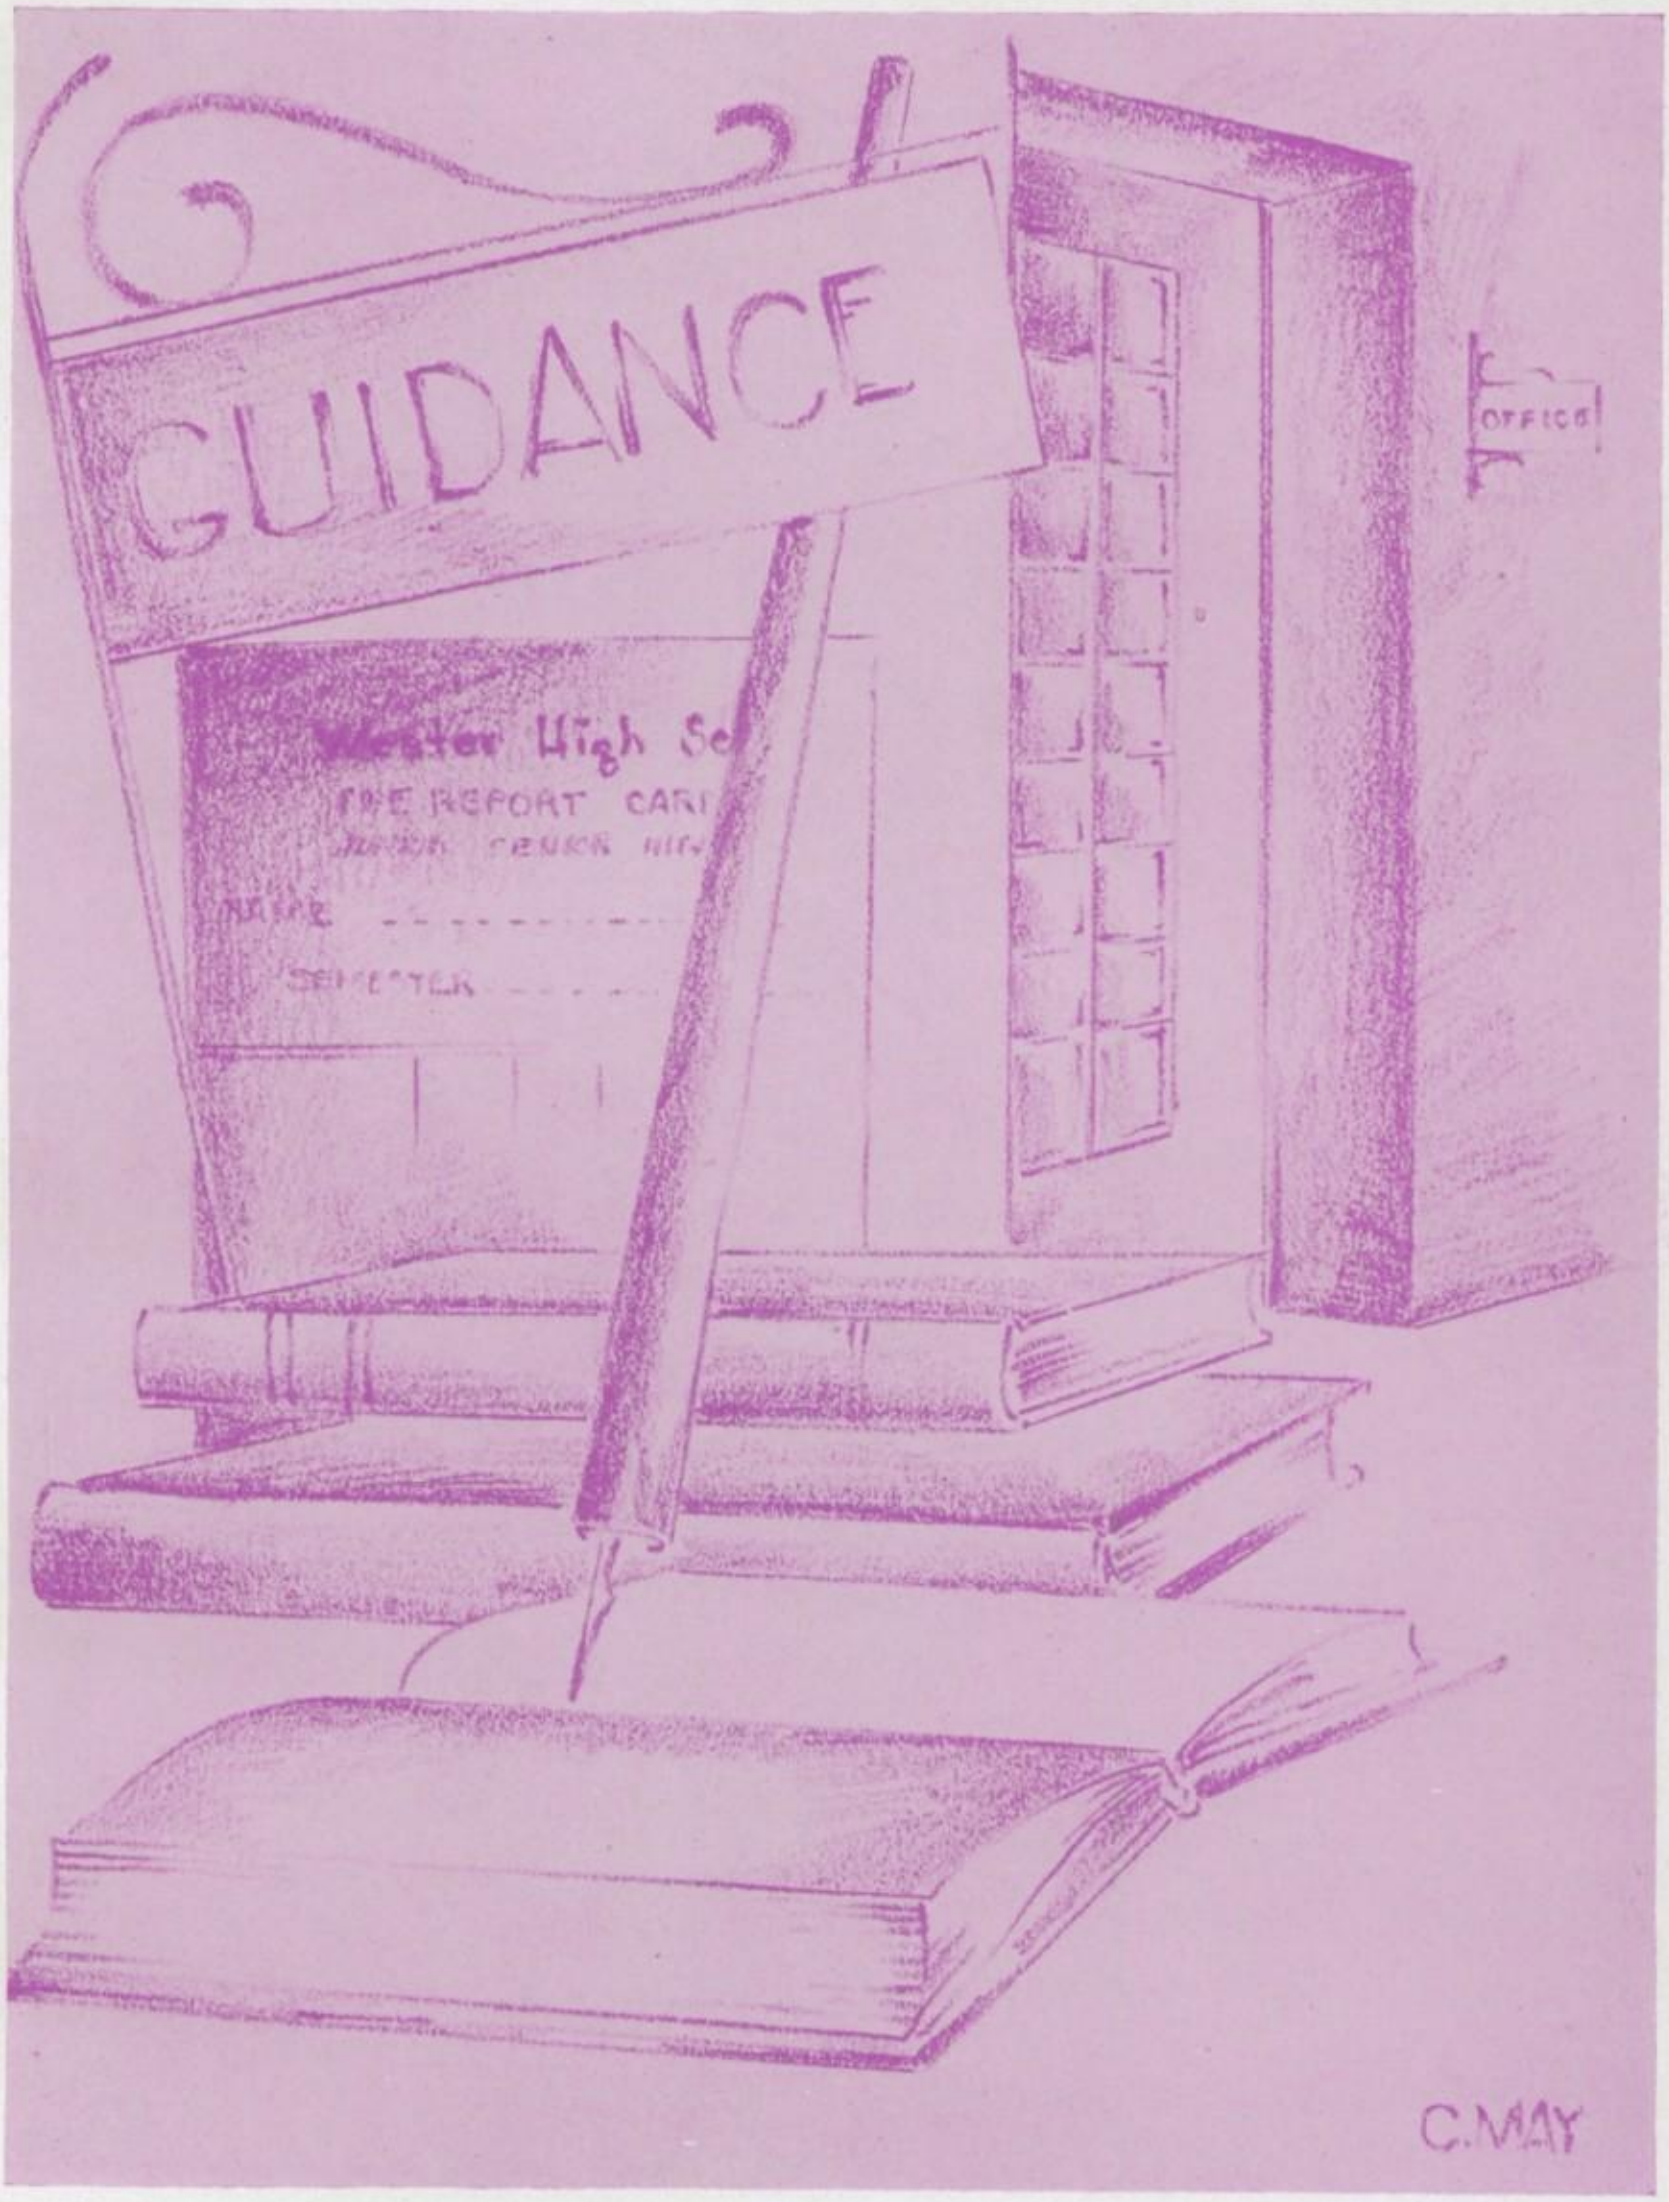


Mr. Royson N. Whipple

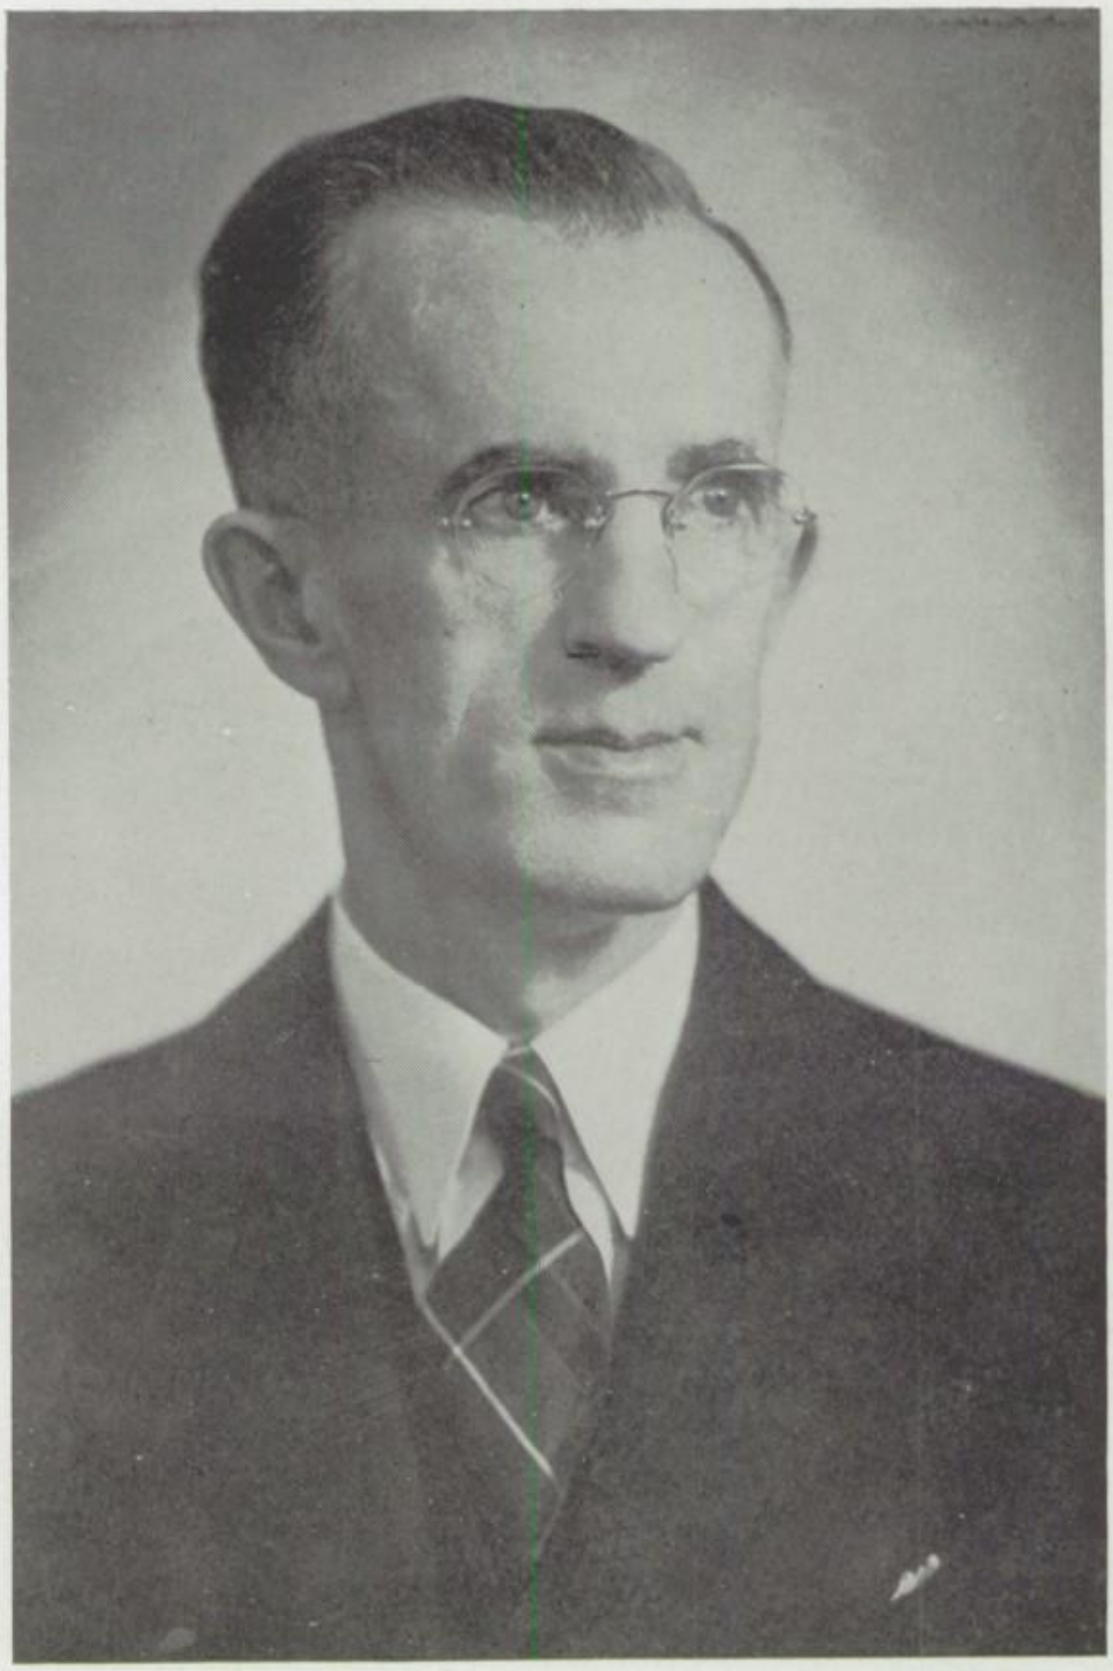
For one decade, Mr. Royson Whipple has been an integral part of the WHS faculty. Now as he goes out to assume a new responsibility, he leaves a deep imprint, the imprint of a capable instructor and popular person.

For ten years Mr. Whipple has successfully coached the athletic teams of Webster High and in that period has had only one losing team, only one team which did not win at least half its games. He also cheerfully and efficiently accepted the additional responsibility of teaching biology, general science, and hygiene.

It is this fine record of service, and ability to serve, for which we are expressing our appreciation. The Class of '45 says "Thank you and Good Luck, Mr. Whipple."



Administration



Mr. R. L. Thomas

Into tomorrow's world we take the influence of a guide whose keen mind, strong will, and understanding heart will show us the right turns and give us courage to top the hills and meet that which lies over the crests.

That guide is Mr. Robert L. Thomas and it is to him that we, the Class of 1945, address this tribute. . . .

. . . We thank you for the qualities of patience, tact, and watchfulness with which you bore the escapades, ideas, projects, and troubles of the members of our class. Your heart has a knack for working hand in hand with your intelligence in meeting the problems of a rare generation—a war generation. There are too few men who have the greatness of mind and of spirit to govern a new type of independent youth and to encourage them, by their own example, to choose the right path in life. . . .

. . . We admire you for your ability—your proficiency in managing an institution with such high standards as Webster High and keeping it at that high level where it rightfully belongs. We know that the war has added to the burden you are carrying—but the manner in which you carry on is an unforgettable inspiration and an everlasting asset to both the faculty and the students. It is an inspiration we shall bear proudly and gratefully into the years ahead.

At an annual tapping ceremony, the Sportsmanship Brotherhood chooses new members from the Junior and Senior classes. This year one Senior and eight Juniors were chosen on the basis of citizenship, scholarship, personality, and participation in school activities. The aim of this organization is to stimulate and encourage the spirit of good sportsmanship and fair play in upholding the ideals of Webster High School.

Checking at basketball games provided a means of financing various activities. The Brotherhood plans to continue to make available a prize to a senior boy and girl at graduation. The big feature of the year was the annual Sportsmanship Brotherhood program held in the Spring, honoring those students who earned athletic and service awards.

The graduating members wish future success to the society and its members.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. John Cummings, approximately seventy students started their musical activities in the Webster High School Band. During the football season, our band played at the home games, encouraging the team to victory. Throughout the 1944-45 season the band tried its skill at classical, semi-classical, and "boogie woogie" works of art. The Spring Concert in May was the result of the year's labors. On Memorial Day the band marched in the annual parade.

Under the direction of Miss Withey, the school choirs were started early in the school year. Eighty-eight girls turned out for Girls' Chorus, and forty-four of these were chosen for Mixed Choir. Twenty-six boys were chosen for Mixed Choir, while twenty-eight are members of the Boys' Chorus. Because of a forced vacation before Christmas, the annual Christmas program was canceled; in its place the choirs presented an assembly program March 16. The biggest task was ended for the singers with the end of the Spring Concert in May. Shirley Pierce presided at the piano for the Girls' Chorus and the Boys' Chorus, while Phyllis Averill accompanied the Mixed Chorus.

The COURIER

Miss Kathleen Goetten

George Danzer

Following the 1944 Syracuse Press Conference, the Courier editors radically changed the form of the Webster High paper—"streamlined it" in journalistic lingo.

Students received the new format with enthusiasm and were pleased to note that publication was able to return to bi-weekly schedule except where school closing due to storms held up staff work.

Student opinion found its way more and more into the editorial page of the Courier as the editors strove to increase interest in school affairs.

Senior Play . . .

The Class of 1945 on January 19, presented the entertaining, three act comedy, "Come Rain or Shine" by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes. As directors, Miss Lois White and Sandra Meddaugh, student assistant, brought forth a play that had a "professional touch."

The Grayson's summer vacation was actually dispensed with as the ambitious Jac, the lazy Glenn, and the beautiful Rosemary tried their hands at love. To top the commotion, came Mrs. Sparkes' gossip, Dan's dramatic efforts, Agnes' missing a boat race, Jac's and Glenn's leaving home, Mrs. March's unexpected appearance—yet the scheduled summer theatre opens, "Come Rain or Shine."

Junior Play . . .

"Over the Rainbow," a three act comedy by Frances Homer, was presented by the Junior Class on April 20. Under the expert direction of Miss Marion Clarke with the student assistance of Hazel Hallock and Doris Hasman, the cast played their parts to perfection.

The plot centers about Lloyd, a lawyer, who was a "confirmed hater of women." After Yvonne, Lloyd's ward, succeeded in charming Teddy and Lawson, Lloyd too fell under the influence of her smile. Lloyd, however, had been jilted once by Yvonne's mother and Yvonne's resemblance to her kept him from telling the girl he loved her. The play ended happily with the marriage of Lloyd to Yvonne. The entirely different atmosphere of this play made it most enjoyable.

This year, acute wartime curtailment of help in the library created special service opportunity for club members. All of the secretarial work and the responsibilities connected with the increased output of books were attempted by the members. It was found that 5000 more books were circulated in 1944 than in 1943. The members gladly give their assistance and are very grateful for the guidance and aid given to them by Miss Genung, the adviser of the club.

Library Club members create their own social events each year, and this year a Christmas Party, a Mother's Day Tea, and a Houseparty were among the activities. Special programs for meetings were also carried out, including the following speakers: Miss Lois White, Mr. Harold Foley, Miss Esther Dunn, Mrs. Velma Hand, and Mrs. Henry Sprague, who helped commemorate the club's annual Reagan Day.

Les Babillards

Under the guidance of a new teacher, Mrs. Riter, the Webster High Honorary French Society passed through an eventful year.

Highlight of the activities was the addition of six year old Louis St. Maver as the French mascot.

Furthering the spirit of rivalry was a hotly contested basketball game with the lowly Venatores Verborum.

Venatores Verborum

After the initiation held at the November meeting, the Venatores Verborum enrolled thirty-three members. During the winter months pancake suppers and competitive basketball games with the Les Babillards were outstanding features. Venatores Verborum contributed toward the Red Cross Drive and co-operated in the War Bond auction for the jeep. In March the Caesarites furnished entertainment appropriate to the Ides of March and in April the Olympic games were held. The highlight of the year was the annual banquet in May which was conducted in true Roman style.

Social activities of the Future Farmers of America for 1945 included a picnic lunch in the cafeteria, a Christmas Party with the Home Ec. Club, and a Fathers' and Sons' Banquet. Due to unusually heavy snowstorms, members could not attend the annual poultry shows, but plans for the year included the annual trip to Cornell. The fine reputation of the "Aggies" has been built by their noon hour movies, by their unusually successful basketball team, and by the large attendance at their monthly meetings.

Among thirty-five enthusiasts who appeared at the first practice session in September, there were five lettermen from last year's squad. Early in the season one of these, Russ Lieberman, was called to the service of his country, leaving four veterans around which Coach Whipple moulded this year's gridiron. Despite inexperience, the team turned in a fairly successful season, winning two, losing three, and tieing one. Highlight of the season was a rousing victory over Brighton.

Wartime demands resulted in the return of only one veteran, Corky VerCrouse, from last year's quint. Under a new basketball mentor, Mr. Perry, this year's inexperienced squad was harassed by a series of illnesses which prevented the use of a full-strength team throughout most of the season. However, the purple and gold forces had a satisfactory record and show great promise for next year.

To permit wider participation in softball, a league of teams representing the Seniors, Juniors, Sophs, Frosh, and Aggies was formed. Each team played four games and at the completion of this schedule, an all-star team was chosen to represent Webster High in games with the schools of East Rochester, Fairport, and Brighton. Great enthusiasm and all-out co-operation were the keynotes in making this a successful season.

There were two basketball leagues, one the intra-class league and the other, the intramural league. The intra-class league consisted of five teams: Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and Aggies. The Aggies took first place, being defeated but once out of eight games. The intramural league consisted of 39 teams divided into four classes, A, B, C, and D.

Bowling, another highlight of the season, began early in January and extended into the first two weeks of March. Out of the 55 participants, the eight highest bowlers were chosen to represent WHS in the Monroe County Bowling tournament. William Frawley placed second to Filiachi of East Rochester losing out by nine pins.

Boxing was conducted along the same lines as in the past two years, with the highlight being the annual boxing show in assembly.

Members of the Leaders' Club are chosen on the basis of ability and interest in athletics. In assisting the physical education director, Miss Marion Noble, each club girl has various duties, such as refereeing games, doing art work, taking care of the club correspondence, playing the piano or typing, as well as teaching grade clasess. Play days with neighboring schools are also arranged and supervised by these girls. Each member receives twenty points a year toward her award.

Assistant Leaders' Club

Last year a new system for Leaders' Club membership was devised, under which prospective leaders served a one year apprenticeship as assistant leaders before being admitted to the club. If, at the end of this training period they had shown that they were worthy of membership, they were voted in. This arrangement, proving very successful, has been adopted as a permanent system by the Leaders' Club. Girls serving this one year period earn ten points toward their award.

The Girls' Athletic Manager is chosen annually by members of the Leaders' Club on the basis of activity in sports and general leadership ability.

Her chief duty is keeping an accurate, up-to-date record of all credits earned by girls partaking in sports.

Working in close co-operation with Miss Noble, she also makes arrangements for play-days, checks on all managers, and presides at all meetings of the Leaders' Club.

To Our Advertisers

Without your support, the Class of 1945 would have been disheartened by wartime prices and restrictions. Especially do we appreciate the consideration of those who accepted a new advertisement arrangement patriotically designed to conserve paper. The first group of advertisers relinquished ½ page space, the second group ¼ page, and the last group ⅛ page space.
